Carolin C. Brucker-Cabe joined XPAN Law Group in 2018 as an associate. She is a foreign-trained attorney (Germany) who counsels clients in data privacy matters involving questions arising in the context of the European General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and German data privacy laws. Carolin has extensive knowledge in German data privacy law and uniquely understands the impact of the GDPR on U.S. clients and their obligations within the scope of the newly enforced law.

Carolin regularly works with clients to conduct domestic and international data privacy audits and assessments, conducting in-depth gap analysis between data management practices and regulatory obligations. She also works with clients to implement network infrastructures to decrease risks and increase efficiencies.

She also has experience in U.S. domestic law, which she gained during her LL.M. studies at Fordham University School of Law in New York as well as her prior work experience as a foreign associate in a midsize law firm in Manhattan.
